May drops conditionality in ZAR and IAR - its extended in ZAR.

Even without conditionality, I probably wouldn't vote on the (K)

- Links aren't UG to the Aff, and Aff doesn't make it worse
- Aff solves for border deaths
- Either the alt rejects open borders, so it ~~doesn't~~ does nothing to resolve border deaths OR its the root cause of border constructions, which makes Aff a step in the right direction (and gives them access to the perm).

I don't really understand what the aff does.

I am persuaded that the model of debate

defended by the negative accesses subject formation better than the aff's model.
