NEG set a tone with the question "what happens if a police sees drug user on the street?" and I never really felt AFF could provide a satisfying reason or incentive to choose her plan. The other facts proved immaterial if addicts still end up in jail to be punished & treated.

COMMENTS & REASON FOR DECISION:

- It is not terribly clear what a hallucinogen is based on the IAC. This is exacerbated by the fact that ~50% of the substantive evidence in the IAC (10A11, WHIPP OF, HALL17) isn't specific to (H) and is general to drugs.

- Few inefficient places in the IAR:

- Don't read (E) & (F) when he only generates offense to (E) in the INC shell
- The TJFs likely aren't responsive to theory since it doesn't resolve the necessity for specific links to (H)

- Easy answer to this 1X exchange is, "I engaged but you prevented me from engaging better". The story of T is not that you couldn't engage; it's that your options were sufficiently constrained / negate.

There's a couple takeouts to theory, including a conceded TVA that solves the offense from the counterinterp and a conceded no-RVJ justification (#2 discourage checking abuse).

So I vote off of either Kunt or the LJS case turn.

RFD: vote neg. Aff doesn't get a perm too many conceded arguments from ZNR, no net benefit. Don't vote on Ever-ev you only answer 1 of the Z's responses about not being white, not the other about alt's of not addressing these issues or weighting. Neg wins a link since the Aff generally defends public health model. Even if examples are AA or therapy the neg says ONLY black people or rather black people will be disproportionately sent there.

COMMENTS & REASON FOR DECISION:

NC - I would have preferred a line-by-line or case instead of just reading a block of cards (or alongside your block). At least put analysis or plan to cards specific to the AC not arguments. If Neg has a such a huge block of evidence against community-based ~~rehab~~ projects, so much that AC cannot even get through it, then hard to prove abuse. Also, a conditional alt ~~for~~ ^{argument} ~~waterbury~~ or Queer Pess K is a little offensive - plus run with T also ~~books~~ - ~~other~~ ^{argument} And, AC said they would defend ~~claim~~ to give Neg more links.

NR - I would have preferred that Neg not spread. T's spread slow down + explain - spreading cards or in the NR is fine but the NR needs to ~~stand~~ be more clear.

T - don't see fairness issue, ~~see~~ AC is persuasive on reasonability, ^{was} a voter. ^{educative} as Neg's offense with the CP wins out as Aff doesn't solve for drug abuse outside of prisons, thus the perm fails.

Going for rob as prefat

Compelling when weighing directly to a traditional standard. The percon you try to set up between T and NC doesn't function the way you think it does. You're lucky NEG didn't swing at the mindset shift arguments more.

NC doesn't make it evident
whether NEG posits any change
at all, meaning you don't grant yourself access to netbenefits
and I have to buy risk of offense claims. Killing offense works when you ensure you yourself some level of netbenefit and there's not something AFF can weigh on.

Rob offense

COMMENTS & REASON FOR DECISION:

- This is the second time I've judged you on AFF; I like the way you structure the AC, with explicit impacts and preempts after arguments. Helps me make connections.
- Probably shouldn't have time on the table in the IAC though. That last ~40 of explanation didn't do much for me b/c I'd already had it slowed.

- Pushing on good places for the AFF (solventy, topicality).
- Pretty sure the IAR arg is going to be "you're saying all people who defend implementation should lose which isn't sufficiently particular" and she'll likely be correct.

I consider ~~weighing~~ ^{voting} on condo ethics but there's not enough work done in the IAR to put my ballot here. It's mostly leveraged as a takeout of the particularism NC in the IAR.

At that point the round comes down to T. There's a conceded argument that T controls the IL link to the ROB and there's enough work on the AFF in the 2NR that the AFF likely doesn't generate substantive offense my ways.

Very impressive debating from you both. Neg, I thought you did a good job of responding to the ground established by the Aff. That said, for me the theory and framework arguments were a wash. You both did good work on countering each other on those, so for me it came down to the dBad raised by Neg to the Aff plan. It was very resourceful, but I think Aff successfully overcame it through several ways: Starte only has one term constitutionally, needles are small part of drug policy, etc.

Neg wins that permissibility = negate
I don't think AFF wins that there

makes the DA vs. AFF

- jails don't have many (diesel overcrowding)
- Duarte - bloodiest drug war
- Portugal

- reasonability
- PH: Phil's got new pros.
- shooting people - insane (too informal - say HA violation)
- ICC has no internal PH leaves ICC / Rome statute today
- PH doesn't have enough
- decrease in drug abuse
- PH just started war on drugs
- Public health
- resolve unlawful violence - be alive

Pro active: how would decrim change that?

NEG

- CX1: who does plan?
- What is wholistic?
- ICC investigations ✓
- CC collapse into oratory - sad quote
- Home school disadvantage, but you speak faster
- PH & CN relations
- as will get involved
- Prosecutors down
- wholistic
- Law Sequence question:
- Law operate ethically
- public health
- not on wiki - so what? it's a debate, listen old school
- semantic on passive voice
- "the others"
- ethics, how is extrajudicial murder of drug users in PH ethical?

AFF wins mainly over Human Rights impact. NEG had really good question about ICC, but could have turned me, but AFF reply that ICC not effective. PH turned me to him. Should have discussed impact like how many drugs were in PH ethical? #
